Keeping my daughter's attention on her homework has always been a struggle. I was very impressed on the methods and techniques that Ms. Julie used to keep her working away on her homework.

Educating Our Parents: Understanding the Manchester District Curriculum

Core instruction encourages students to explore the world around them to gain a greater understanding of mathematical and scientific concepts. Within mathematics, The Everyday Mathematics Parent Connection, as well as resources and parent guides for each elementary grade level, ensures that the parents and guardians of students are kept well-informed. Science courses delve into the Biological and Physical Sciences, as well as Earth and Space Science at the Secondary level.

Six of the elementary schools within Manchester School District have implemented the America's Choice Pearson program as their Language Arts focus. This program allows instructors to work on improved literacy and focus while meeting the needs of their diverse students. As students progress through the program there are a variety of benchmarks and target skills built in to ensure success and comprehension. At the middle and high school levels, students focus on reading and writing and the integration of these two important skills in their everyday lives.
